A New World of Relief ~ Accessing the Holy Chalice

Beautiful beings of love and light, creation is all around you and in you. Nothing stays the same, ever has or every will. Change is constant and you must learn to allow your energy source to move with the changing energies, as you resist, so too will your experiences be static which is a cause and effect of resistance. There is a movement of energy pluming from within the heart cells of your personal embodiments and within your earth mother. A new world of relief is what we're calling it, it allows for a time to exhale and in that exhalation all the world expands because of you. Relief is rooted in the belief of 'reform' and reforming calls to you a new image, yet unknown in its manifestation – in this way; you allow creation as you step forward. Belief comes from a rooted understanding and a base of trust. Collectively humanity, especially within the 'free world,' proclaimed you had enough of the chaos within your country and voted collectively for a new reform (change).

The global changes are a cause and effect of your collective thoughts. Change can only take place when the static level of interference shifts in your "own" consciousness. Therefore, it's not about changing the whole world, it's about changing your static-mind about the world and it all starts with you as an individual. The wanting of the heart is the expression of love. Love wears many masks only if it is filled with conditions. With unconditional love the masks do not exist, because there is nothing to hide. This is an important statement, your mask(s) must come off and in that release your heart light shifts and 177 points of light extend from within you and around you (then transformation can take place). Your heart light expands and by default, your DNA begins to expand and contract within itself. Your DNA is part of your blood, yet it too has varied vibrational vortices or frequencies of energies that expand and contract inside of you and outside of you called hyperspace. It connects you to your heart-mind, or your 3 degree's of familiarity which is 1) Seeing, 2) Feeling, and 3) Being. All are invisible aspects of your embodiment. When you go to the heart, you're in direct connection with your mind (real mind ~ soul), not the brain thoughts or conditioned mind patterns, but the heart-mind where truth resides. When truth is reviled within the heart-mind, then the light body connects you to universal frequencies and ascension or enlightenment takes place. You seem to be transcending with a new understanding, a new feeling body and seeing no longer only exists within the lenses of your embodiment, but your feeling center engages your heart-mind and you see with a new perspective driven by the sacred heart.

Matter (physical embodiment) binds you to the earth and third dimensional world (chaos), anti-matter is hyper-space and connects you to truth (your vibration or frequency increases within your cellular structure and engages hyper-space activity). Hyperspace streams imagination and imagination initiates creation. And in that creation, new world 'relief' is available to you. All things that are familiar to you will no longer be desired; those things that do not support your enhanced vibrational embodiment will naturally shed themselves. Addictions to the 'hall of mirrors' (things you seems to be attached to) are attached to your current knowingness and are of 'ego demands' and will fall away as your frequency rises. Ego is not to be destroyed, rather integrated within your heart-mind and in that space you'll return to true love (truth) and joy, which is your natural inheritance.

Predictions are volatile – mass consciousness needs a ‘collective mind set’ to change your world as it exists today. The catalyst for the change exists within each of you and it requires your accessing it. How do you do this? One must come into focus within the Holy Chalice; your mind....not the head mind as you know it today, but your heart mind ...The Holy Grail is your mind (heart mind), your feelings are the ‘key’ that opens the door. What door? The door to your sacred heart, the sacred heart is Christ Consciousness the golden light of truth within all humanity. Accessing the holy chalice is up to you, the chalice is a metaphor of a golden cup filled with hope, faith, truth, love, compassion, light, integrity, grace, harmony, abundance, and omni presence. The Sacred Heart of Christ; Christ is not a man, but an archetype of energy that is gifted to all of humanity as you awaken to your true selves. Jesus was the wounded man, Christ is the enlightened soul.

The Indigo revolution within the 12th Golden Age is the game of enlightenment and abundance where a new world relief has transformed itself through a global shift in consciousness. In this collective shift your healing industry can be transformed to an industry of health versus an industry of death; where healing and health is rewarded instead of capitalizing on death. A transformation where fear-based realities are a vision of the past and when fear is talked about in community circles it will be referred to as healing – which is letting go of fear. Manifestations at the 5th dimension will be instantaneous and each individual are directly accountable for their manifestations albeit good, bad or indifferent. They’ll be no one to blame, rather an opportunity to change their thoughts and reform the manifestation into their true desire. Protection will no longer be a thought-form because you’ll all realize that protection is of a fear based reality and it is merely a thought form which holds the absence of love and in that recognition you’ll be able to reform it in your next thought.

The New World Relief is an idea where the people collectively will build the foundation with an attitude of “yes we can.” Together as one, reforming, reclaiming and renewing you’re community with love, healing and grace. You build the world together, your voice is important; you MUST have faith and speak your truth.

And so it is.....
