Your collective consciousness within the Earth Patterns are in a constant state of flux (change), when resistance meets the flux the Chaos Theory is running amok and you feel 'out of control.' Basically that is what your world is feeling (emotional attachment to the energy) at this point in your time space continuum. The 'term' butterfly effect coined by Edward Norton Lorenz, a mathematician and meteorologist worked on a weather theory studying seagull's wing movement and what cause/effect it had on your weather patterns. In 1997, while poetically inspired he changed the seagull chaos theory to 'the butterfly effect.' Mr. Lorenz' theory detailed how tiny variations can affect variable systems including weather patterns on a global perspective; His theory proved true. When we use the term Butterfly Effect, we also align it with chaos (which in its natural state is recreation in motion) and the metamorphous effect from crawling to flying; a transformation from Matter to Light. Your metamorphosis is basically the same small movements having large implications within your personal framework (mind, body, spirit).

The natural state of Conscious is unified within itself. The amount of energy it takes to maintain your 'dream state' (illusion) of separation is absolutely incredible. It takes so much more energy to hold on to what you think you know than it does to simply let go. That is part of the reason why the mental body was developed to be so strong. The easiest way to maintain the dream of separation was to have the mental body declare everything it cannot see as "not real." So it screens out all the impulses coming from your inspiration (spirit). The mental body is made up of geometries and frequencies (high and low) of energy. The human condition body's function is to determine your reality. It believes that it is in control. It believes that it is running the show. It isn't but its whole job is to determine what is "real." It determines how the universe recreates itself in your life. So by determining what is real, it keeps you stuck in the echo (karmic) game. Karma is an echo from the past. Recall if you will from our last discourse that we shared with you that in the 'karma' game, your mental body lives in the future and the emotional body lives in the past and there is an 'emotional attachment' to each projection. Remember that fear is the culprit – ego is the wounded fear bound personality and you are here to serve the force of love (love is what you are and love is what you will return to).

So, in the world, you have a physical body, and the mass consciousness within the human condition has a reaction to the physical body which is a love/hate relationship with yourselves. Your bodies are the tool in which you experience through and echo karmic limitation through. Your body was gifted to you as a communication tool, until communion is. Communion means, "coming into union" and this is the fulfillment of the Prophecy of Union.

You also have something that we call an etheric blueprint which exists within you and outside of you, one might refer to it as the over soul; this body holds structures that are seventh, sixth, fifth, and forth-dimensional. As per dimensions, your earth plane vacillates between the 3rd and 4th dimension from a density perspective, holding formation or matter; the forth dimension in our model is the astral level. This is where the majority of your karmic patterning is stored within the etheric body. It sets up the energy in motion to move you into other frequencies (bodies) and moves you away from the karmic cycle. It also works to keep your DNA functioning at a survival-based vibration by inhibiting the amount of Light your physical body can absorb.

Your global fifth-dimensional desire is in full process and this means you're moving from carbon based energy to what we call 'etheric' crystals. These crystals block certain flows and prevent the body from activating too early. The fifth-dimensional etheric blueprint is made up of an axiotonal meridian system, an axial circulatory system, and spin points through which these systems and structures are connected. As part of this game of separation, the human axiotonal meridians were disconnected from your soulful self and other star populations. This created brain atrophy, aging, and death. Axiotonal lines are the equivalent of acupuncture meridians that can connect your oversoul and resonant star systems galactically. Through the axiotonal lines, your physical body is directly reprogrammed by the Overself into a new Body of Light.

The axiotonal ley lines that are activating now (through your Earth Mother – Gia and Tula (ancient earth) connect into "spin points" which are small spherical vortexes of electromagnetic energy that feel like they are on the skin surface. There are also spin points in every cell of the body. These cellular points emit Sound and Light frequencies which spin the molecules in the atoms at a faster rate. Through the increased molecular spin, Light fibers are created which set up a grid for cellular regeneration. It is a fifth-dimensional energy system that connects the spin points on the skin surface to every spin point in every cell. It is a model for physical transmutation and it is being renewed now that the axiotonal lines are reconnected. The axial system pulses energy like the circulatory system pulses blood, but the axial system is basically electrical in nature, likened to the nervous system. As the axial system receives energy from the Overself, it recombines color and sound to realign the blood, lymph, endocrine, and nervous systems into the template of Grace (Divinity). The spin points emit Sound and Light to create a grid work for the renewed evolution for the human condition.

So, mutation is in progress and it is a process. Keeping your space (body) energetically clean is essential; not only because you are transmuting and dropping density, but because everyone on the planet is transmuting also. You are affected by the energies in at least a half-mile radius around you. Your energy body (auric field is 10-feet around and above you) is shifting in every moment and it is therefore imperative that you stay focused (current moment – NOW) as much as possible. We explain this to you so you'll better understand the morphing effects on your physical bodies. We've listed some common disruptions below:

Flu-like symptoms – This is the #1 complaint because, as you are dropping density, if you can't transmute it, it's got to come out some way and it choose body aches (resistance to self and letting go of emotional impacts from past experiences; you need to learn to trust again)...

Headaches – is the second most common mutational complaint

- sharp chronic pain in head, neck or shoulders; probably etheric crystals stuck (old patterns)*
- Cranial expansion – lumps, bumps, and pressure in the skull; your cranial capacity is expanding (reach up with your hands and pull the cranial plates apart or get some cranial-sacral bodywork).*
- Pressure between the eyebrows: this one feels like someone has their finger between your eyebrows and is pushing. That's exactly what you do for it (take your finger and press there for a few minutes). This is the pineal growing. This technique also works for pressure at the upper back of the skull) pituitary growth) and pressure on the top of the* skull, enter back (the fourth eye). Also put pressure on your big toes with your thumb to relieve pineal and pituitary growth.

- Severe headaches at the base of the skull; resistance of yourself, breathe deeply and allow the energy that does not serve you to fall away.

Nausea and Vomiting – this is stored fear....holding on to past experiences; reflects missed opportunity; feelings of inability to moving forward. There is a lot of mucous in your body as you are releasing fear; life gets sticky.

- if your energy bodies are spinning too fast then you'll get feelings of nausea; just tell your fields to slow down (deep focus on your breath will help).
- If you're clearing things from the human genetic consciousness (your lineage), you may have a lot of nausea, and you find yourself vomiting energy and if you find it more mucous like, it's your resistance to letting it go.

Diarrhea – stored rage – some folks resist the light and as such they experience this symptom; not allowing life to flow freely.

Muscle and Joint Aches – Stored resistance, it can be rejection issues you're dealing with at the cellular level. Sometimes it looks like rheumatoid arthritis – surrender.

Fevers and Sweats – energy bodies are vibrating out of phase with the physical body; slow down the process with your imagination or deliberately increase the vibration of your body by trying to make the fever higher. Either way, you should feel a 'click' as they go back into phase and the fever should drop immediately. Fevers are resistance to yourself and sweating is releasing of toxins and you're resisting the release.

Tiredness – you may be working too hard in your dream-state or have too much on your mind (brain)- most often it's merely a confirmation of you confirming your tired, therefore you get what you ask for. Shift your consciousness about being tired. Vitamin B12 would help.

Vibrating while meditating or on awakening – this is very natural it simply means that your vibration is rising; allow and accept.

Pain in the exact center of sternum – this is usually the heart chakra opening to new levels; use your breath to deliberately open and accept the energy coming in. There is also a vent in the sternum that you may get a lot of pressure in. Think of it as the aperture of a camera, and open it up and spray energy out of the body, it seems to really help.

Arms and hands tingling or falling asleep – the light body structures are reforming your grid to accept the higher frequencies, this may continue for up to 4 months; usually this only happens in those light workers who have this as part of their Divine Purpose. It could also be caused from nervous system mutations in the 8th-level Light body, as the nervous system is being required to handle a lot more light impulses.

Sometimes the pineal gland emits tonal and electromagnetic frequencies that help regulate the electrical pulses in the autonomic nervous system, as well as the pulse of the spinal fluids in all sorts of different rhythms in the body. If there is a disruption from pineal gland to the base of the skull into the spine you may feel out of balance and get numbness. You can also have deep leg jerks as you are trying to relax or going to sleep, it almost feels like the sheaths of the nerves are trying to be pushed backwards. This can be very uncomfortable. If you put your finger in-between your eyebrows, you're pressing on the Ajna the center of Kripalu (grace) which connects to the pineal gland in your brain. Take your other hand and put your finger at the base of your skull, in the center. Focus your attention inwards to the center of your brain; you'll be creating a band of light from finger tip to finger tip, going from the center of the brain to the brain stem; it will cause electrical impulses to begin to shift the light into laser light image the color green from your laser light and begin to breathe into the light. Slow down your breath and the color will begin to change (could look bluish-white); your breath will act as a pulsating machine allowing your nervous system to relax. Continue with this process until you begin to relax and the symptoms release. Remember your whole cellular structure is shifting into light and accessing the silica in your brain for transmutation into crystal points of light weaving a new matrix and new 'body suit' as you continue to expand and contract into Light Body Beings.

This year is critical to your evolution of Mind/Body/Heart Light Openings as we have shared before, 2009 is the year of Eleven (great spiritual shifts is called Faith). The Crystalline Portals are in full activation and with each season change there will be increasingly powerful in their inflow of Light. By September 9, 2009 the Crystalline Grid will achieve 75% activity and the earth-keeper crystals of the Atlantian Temples will flow into greater activity. The Om Crystal, the Green Crystal of Healing and the Blue Crystal of Knowledge will connect 144 points of light and initiate yet another shift in your Heart Light Evolution. This shift is happening and your energy is needed NOW more than ever, because you have come to experience this shift from shadow into light and are here to navigate this great shift. As such, shadow and fear base realities will be presented to you in many forms trying to keep the masses in slumber, yet we say to you the Light is so bright now that this is impossible.

You must keep the Faith (Michael's blue sword) and not buy into the chaos that the shadowed beings will throw out there, for you have come to hold the peace of light in the shadow of death (transformation) and you're doing a magnificent job!!! We walk with you, talk with you and will show you the way, for we are you and you are us.

....And so it is....
